

TERROR AND PRIVILEGE

Captured Islamic State internal documents reveal that many of the Saudi jihadis who traveled to Syria and Iraq to join the fight were not poor and uneducated, but included a sizable number of militants with high school, college and even graduate degrees.

Source: "Saudi Foreign Fighters: An Analysis of Leaked Islamic State Entry Documents," King Faisal Center for Research and Islamic Studies (ICSR.info)

THE WASHINGTON TIMES